'A Sad and Evil Day': New York Legalizes Abortion Up to Baby's Birth Day on Anniversary of Roe v. Wade

New York legislators cheered and applauded Tuesday night after the state Senate removed restrictions on late-term abortions, allowing unborn babies to be aborted up until the day of birth.

The Reproductive Health Act passed with a 38-28 vote and was signed into law by New York Gov. Andrew Cuomo (D). "Today we are taking a giant step forward in the hard-fought battle to ensure a woman's right to make her own decisions about her own personal health, including the ability to access an abortion," Gov. Cuomo said.

The law erases New York's previous limitations on abortion which restricted the fatal procedure past 24 weeks. Supporters say those late-term abortions are being allowed in order to protect the lives of women, but pro-life advocates say that's just a ruse, pointing out that those late-term babies are clearly viable human lives who could otherwise survive outside the womb.

"RHA is an extreme bill sold to the public saying it merely 'updates' New York's law, which is far from true. RHA will expand abortion past 24 weeks through birth, make abortion a 'fundamental right,' and prohibit all limits, which Roe vs. Wade did not do," New York State Right to Life said in a Facebook post.

Christina Fadden, chair of New York State Right to Life explained further, "RHA has expanded abortion-on-demand in New York past 24 weeks – well past when unborn children feel pain, are viable, and suffer during the course of an abortion – and up to birth. This is inhumane."

The act states, "every individual who becomes pregnant has the fundamental right to choose to carry the pregnancy to term, to give birth to a child, or to have an abortion."

The law also removes abortion from the definition of homicide and New York's criminal code altogether. Previously, New York law treated the murder of an unborn child in its the third trimester as a felony offense punishable by up to seven years in prison.

The RHA changes that. Instead, abortion will be regulated under public health law and a variety of medical professionals, not just licensed physicians, will be allowed to perform abortions without penalty.

"Opponents say this limits prosecutors when they look to charge individuals who harm a woman's unborn child in a domestic violence case or otherwise. Supporters say, in such cases, there remain plenty of other, much harsher criminal charges at prosecutors' disposal," reports the Times Union.

New York Republicans and conservatives fought against the law but the measure sailed through the state Senate after Democrats won a majority in the Senate last November.

Advocates say the new law will protect abortion even if the Supreme Court overturns Roe v. Wade. "With the signing of this bill, we are sending a clear message that whatever happens in Washington, women in New York will always have the fundamental right to control their own body," Cuomo said.

Planned Parenthood NYC tweeted a video of the cheering and celebration of the sweeping expansion of abortion:

Pro-life activists are horrified by the New York abortion legislation.

"New York Senate cheers today for legalization of killing a baby old enough to born - poisoning a 6 month old to death in the womb & delivering her in pieces. This is the legacy of #Roe. It's time to end this barbarism," said Lila Rose, founder and president of Live Action.

t's time to end this barbarism.

Outspoken Christian and New Orleans Saints tight end Ben Watson also strongly condemned the law.

"It is a sad and evil day when the murder of our most innocent and vulnerable is celebrated with such overwhelming exuberance. We SHOULD be supporting and encouraging the building of families which are fundamental to any society. By not doing so, we invite consequences untold," he tweeted shortly after the law was passed.

get to know The Schwartzs

Ben and Brooke Schwartz, married June 26, 2010. Ben is employed at the jay county sheriff's department serving as the department's Lieutenant and investigator, while Brooke is a busy at-home mom of three children, Luke (6), Brinlee (3), and Olivia (1).

The Schwartzs enjoy doing anything active, being outside, and playing games of all kinds. At Christmas time, they have made it a tradition to go as a family to pick out a live tree, make and decorate gingerbread houses. When summer approaches, they look forward to hosting the annual campout at their home for their 20 nieces and nephews. This summer will be the 9th year and counting!

Their favorite family verse is Philippians 4:13, I can do all things through Christ to strengthen to me.

MIKE SNAVELY IS BACK PRESENTING "THE STRICKEN EARTH" MARCH 16 & 17

other details can be found at www.westmissionarychurch.com

The earth is wearing out just like the Bible said it would. The earth is undergoing changes that can be seen everywhere, and the global flood is largely responsible! Why do volcanoes erupt? Why do earthquakes occur? Why are all continents shifting toward the Pacific? What produces El Niños? What does the Mid-Atlantic Ridge have to do with the west Pacific Ocean? Why are the ocean trenches in the Pacific all arc-shaped?, etc. The answers are all related, and might surprise you! Let us welcome back Mike Snavely!

Please sign up at the Welcome Center to volunteer in a variety of areas. You make this weekend possible! Thank you for serving.

We invite you to a welcome meal for Mike and Carrie on Saturday evening at 5:00PM. This meal requires you to sign up. Call the church office or sign up at the Welcome Center. Thank you!

that was a joke, right?
